

I support the ARRL proposal and hope that it will be positive for the growth of the amateur service and will strengthen the importance of radio for emergency communications and public service, as well as promoting a knowledge of the fundamentals of radio theory and experimentation.